2025 WEDDING
PRICING GUIDE

Howdy! My name is Alyssa (she/her)

I'm mostly just a goob.

When I'm not out thrifting, playing board games with my friends, or clocked-in at my "real job," you can usually find me at home - probably crocheting, eating mac & cheese, or editing photos.

Newberg, Oregon is home, where I live with my spouse of 10+ years (Jered), our cats (Bunny, Pippin, and CowBoy), and our stinky, old chihuahua (Mosby).

I like brown sugar in my coffee and cloudy days are my favorite.

Along with my portrait and fine art (and less refined art) practices, some of my more notable skills include napping with my cats, collecting hobby supplies, watching Survivor, and forgetting to water my houseplants.

I want to take meaningful, honest photos of people. My ideal clients are folks who come to me just as they are - nothing more, nothing less.

It's important to me to foster a safe and trusting space to collaborate with my clients. One that celebrates all bodies, all loves, and all neurotypes, and embraces the things that make us all wonderful and weird.

If that sounds like your jam too, let's connect! I'll take you out to coffee and we'll talk about what we can create together.

What's next?

Contact me to set up a consultation (it's free, I'll even take you out to coffee or lunch or something). We'll chat details, get to know each other a bit and see if we're a good fit.

Then, we'll put together your collection and make it official with a contract and a 20% non-refundable reservation fee is due to secure your date.

Congratulations!
you're marrying
your best friend!
